

VACANCY

Call for Applications for Research Assistants Department of Forensic Medicine, University of Kelaniya, Ragama (2026)

Applications are invited for the post of Research Assistant to a UNDP-funded research project conducted by the Department of Forensic Medicine, University of Kelaniya.

(Principal Investigator: Senior Professor Anuruddhi Edirisinghe)

Period: From July to December 2026

3 Vacancies available

Eligibility: Students who have recently sat for the Final MBBS Examination and are entitled to the MBBS degree.

Current Project Phase: The project has successfully completed nationwide data collection and is currently in the data analysis, report writing, and dissemination phase.

Responsibilities

- Assisting with quantitative and qualitative data analysis.
- Supporting report writing and preparation of research outputs.
- Assisting with manuscript preparation, presentations, and dissemination activities.
- Participating in project meetings and research discussions.

Preferred Qualifications

- Good knowledge of SPSS and quantitative data analysis.
- Knowledge and/or experience in qualitative data analysis.
- Good academic writing and communication skills.
- Previous research experience will be an added advantage

Flexible working hours. Possibility of working from home for a substantial part of the appointment period

Please email your short CV to: anuruddhi@kln.ac.lk on or before 1st July 2026

Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

(Salary – Rs 50,000 per month)